1. Letter to Shareholders

Dear shareholders, ladies, and gentlemen,

Following the mitigation of the global pandemic in 2022, however, the global dynamics of economic growth are still weak due to the effect of inflation and interest rate hike. The demand of the terminal market is sluggish, and the industry chain continuously adjusts its inventory. In addition to uncertain factors such as the unsettling of the Russo-Ukrainian War and the ongoing US-China Tech War, major international forecasting institutions generally believe that this trend will continue till 2023.

According to the import and export statistics of customs from the Bureau of Foreign Trade, Ministry of Economic Affairs, Taiwan's textile imports and exports in 2022 experienced negative growth. This is mainly caused by the rising cost of necessities, thus consumers had to cut down the expenses in the non-essential categories, which included clothing and furniture. Moreover, inflation in Europe and US markets extended the inventory turnover time of customers, and since August and September, customers' ordering momentum had slowed down, and the sales atmosphere of the whole market was at a state of "cheaper prices and reduced volumes". Even facing the rise in the cost of raw materials, it is difficult to fully transfer it to brand customers.

And another point of notice is that there is a change in the way of ordering of brand owners. Orders have shifted from long-term contracts to short-term orders, and there is an increase in demand for urgent and short-term orders. Therefore, scheduling and quality management are becoming more complex and crucial. We will also sustainably integrate external resources, keep on innovating, and adjust our response strategies to cope with these challenges.

The annual consolidated operating revenue of Honmyue in 2022 is NTD 3,189,020,000, which has a decrease of 8.99% compared to the previous year. The consolidated net profit of the current period is NTD 80,569,000, which has a decrease of 42.87% compared to the previous year.

(3) Effects from the external competitive environment, regulatory environment, and overall business environment

There will be still a high level of uncertainty in 2023, especially the status of demand exceeding supply in labor and energy, and it is anticipated that the labor and energy costs will continue to rise.

Homnyue will maintain a cautious yet proactive approach in addressing these challenges. We are committed to the value maximization and sustainability of textiles and explore new application areas. We firmly believe that all employees can uphold the business philosophy of "Integrity, Proactivity, Initiative, and Innovation." In view of an uncertain business environment in the future, we will fulfill our social responsibilities through concrete actions and achieve our operational performance goals. We collaborate with our supply chain and customers, seeking mutual benefits and prosperity. Due to factors such as high inflation, policy tightening, and financial market volatility, the global economy has become weaker. In the textile industry, brand owners continuously stay in the stage of destocking inventory, resulting in conservative ordering. Additionally, the Russo-Ukrainian War pushed up oil prices, leading to increased costs of raw materials and affecting demand and input of raw materials. Moreover, persistent global inflation and sluggish terminal demand have dampened consumer purchasing willingness, resulting in a decline in textile exports for the whole year of 2022. Looking ahead to this year (2023), there is a gradual fall in brand owners' inventory, and the overall recovery situation seems optimistic. The company will continue to monitor order placement and data changes in the industry.

2. The relationship between upstream, midstream, and downstream in the industry.

The company primarily specializes in the production and distribution of long and short-fiber fabrics, operating as a midstream player in the textile industry. The upstream suppliers provide us with petrochemical raw materials, which are then processed into various synthetic fibers such as nylon, polyester, Rayon, and carbon fibers. Then these fibers are further spun into yarn and woven into fabric through the weaving process. In the downstream process, the fabric undergoes bleaching, dyeing, printing, coating, and finishing processes. Finally, the fabric is cut and sewn into garments or other related textile products.

The textile industry in Taiwan has developed into a well-established industry since the end of the 1940s with a complete production and marketing system covering the upstream, midstream, and downstream sectors. The diagram below illustrates the industry's interconnected relationships:

3. Product development trend and status of competition

The textile industry in Taiwan plays a crucial role in the global supply chain of functional textiles. In response to the carbon-neutral goals set by major brands, it is imperative for the industry to initiate carbon reduction efforts in various aspects, such as materials and manufacturing processes. Additionally, the adoption of digital technology and smart manufacturing is essential to build a digitally integrated supply chain that can meet the increasing demands for carbon reduction and shorter order lead times from customers.

(1). Environmental sustainability becomes a standard requirement

As consumers increasingly pay more attention to global climate issues, a business research company in London predicts that the global sustainable sportswear market will grow from USD 78 billion in 2021 to approximately USD 115 billion in 2026, with a compound annual growth rate of 7.5%. The report states that using recycled materials to manufacture new sportswear and shoes is increasingly popular and is an emerging trend in the sustainable sports and leisure market.

However, in the global context of high inflation, consumers prioritize spending on essential expenses. Therefore, affordable sustainability becomes crucial in an economic recession environment. It involves cost-effective choices that focus on quality, durability, and energy efficiency, avoiding unnecessary waste and considering the link between sustainability and affordability.

Taiwanese textile industry players need to integrate the concept of sustainability into their design thinking, achieving sustainability from the side of raw materials. By enhancing the traceability of regenerative materials and increasing the transparency of the supply chain, providing genuine data disclosure and sustainability-related information, the credibility of circular statements can be increased and thus become a responsible supply chain. Collaboration with academia and research institutions to address social and environmental issues and continued commitment to ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) investment is essential to maintain international competitiveness.

(2). Acceleration of the planning of digitization

With the acceleration of planning in metaverse virtual business opportunities for brands and retail markets, Taiwan's supply chain must also accelerate its planning of digitization. Especially the textile industry still relies heavily on labor, and although Taiwan takes pride in its advanced manufacturing technologies for functional textiles and its commitment to sustainable development, however, in the future, it is essential to integrate technologies such as 5G, AI, cloud computing, and big data. For example, in "digital production," automated optical inspection (AOI), AI-powered fabric inspection, and energy usage monitoring systems can be utilized. In "digital development," tools like AI image recognition, digital fabric, and simulation can be applied. In "digital order management," solutions combining OCR optical character recognition and robotic process automation (RPA) can be used. By embracing intelligent technologies for digital transformation and adapting to the trend of less volume, more diverse orders with shorter lead times, Taiwanese textile manufacturers can better respond to the needs of brand customers, achieve higher value with less manpower and reduced costs, and become a crucial partner in the global textile value chain and economic system.

(3) Status of Technologies and Research

(4) Long and short-term business development plan

To achieve business targets, the company formulates long and short-term plans as follows:

1. Short-term business development plan

(1). Changing the product structure to increase the ratio of garment fabrics

With the rise of the middle class in developing countries, the global sports and leisure industry is booming, leading to increasing demand for sports functional fabrics year by year. Homnyue has the most water-jet looms in Taiwan and continues to focus on nylon Oxford and polyester industrial fabrics. It is also actively expanding into various application markets, especially garment fabric development. It has developed high-density fabrics with excellent hand feel and installed wide-width new machines in 2021 to produce and promote mechanical stretch fabrics. The machines are gradually renewed and in coordination with dyeing, finishing, and diversified post-processing, the group's market share in garment fabrics is expanded.

(2). Integrating existing dyeing and finishing factory resources to increase the ratio of finished fabrics

Starting from 2019, after the acquisition of the dyeing and finishing business, Homnyue has been transferring its existing fabric processing supply chain to its own integrated factory. It has also targeted potential greige customers and integrated the advantages of the group's weaving, dyeing, and finishing processes to deliver finished fabrics directly to clients. Currently, the matchup of specific fabric types and customers has been targeted. By leveraging the integration of weaving and dyeing processes within the integrated factory, the competitiveness in receiving orders is enhanced, thereby increasing the group's revenue and profit.

(3). Maximizing the utilization of production capacity and resources across both sides of the Taiwan Strait through integration

Homnyue's strategy is to maximize its profits by integrating business orders and production capacity across the Taiwan Strait. It aims to establish a cross-strait business and production platform, optimize product production according to customer demands, and allocate production to suitable facilities on both sides of the strait based on different quality and delivery requirements.

The Taiwan plant can cater to customers' unique and specialized product development needs, focusing on high-value-added fabrics. The mainland plant is planned to focus on the sale of mass-market products with price sensitivity.

In particular, the completion and inauguration of the Jiujian plant in 2023 will further enhance the integration of resources across both sides of the Taiwan Strait, enabling the company to pursue maximum sales and minimize costs, thus achieving the strategic goal of maximizing group profits.

(4). Specialized division of finished fabric team focusing on customer demands

In today's textile industry, the application areas are extensive and highly specialized, with significant differences in demand across various terminal application areas. To enhance service efficiency and cultivate expertise in the finished fabric business, the company has established professional teams based on the terminal applications markets. These teams consist of experienced personnel familiar with the market and customer models to provide customers with professional and highly effective services. Furthermore, these teams collaborate closely with the strong research and development capabilities and production strength of the group to develop satisfactory products to meet customer demands.

2. Long-term business development plan

(1). Increase the breadth and depth of existing product lines

The application of textiles is extremely diverse, and the company not only focuses on continuously cultivating existing customer products but also develops a wide range of new applications based on customer needs. Taking market demand into consideration, higher value-added products are developed with the collaboration of customers. In addition, international political and economic situations are closely monitored, as well as trade conditions in different terminal markets. Different marketing strategies are formulated for different regions and global sales channels are established by close integration of the sales and production teams.

(2). Promoting green sustainable eco-friendly products

The global textile industry is driving the trend of environmentally sustainable products and aiming for sustainability and net-zero carbon emissions as the ultimate goals.

Major brands have been declaring to promote green and sustainable strategic directions. Ten years ago, Homnyue was the pioneer in using environmentally friendly yarn made from PET bottles. In recent years, we have also invested in the development of Solution Dyed technology, which involves adding color masterbatch during the yarn extrusion process, solving the need for dyeing after weaving, and reducing water use, energy, wastewater, and gas emissions in the dyeing process, contributing to a greener supply chain.

In addition to promoting green products, Homnyue is committed to continuous process optimization for environmental protection and energy efficiency. The company has obtained various environmental certifications such as Bluesign, GRS (Global Recycled Standard), Higg index FEM (Facility Environmental Module), and GREENGUARD. These certifications have enabled the company to successfully enter the green supply chains of international brands. We actively collaborate with brand certifications and optimize our supply chain, emphasizing corporate social responsibility and striving for the sustainable development of both our company and the planet.

(3). Deepening the development of medical fabrics

Due to the global impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, there has been a significant increase in demand for medical protective products in the market. With the certification of Good Manufacturing Practice (GMP) for medical devices, besides providing medical fabrics to domestic medical facilities, Homnyue has expanded its production capacity and broadened the range of medical textiles and successfully explored the overseas sales market.

5.2 Market and Sales Overview

(1) Market Analysis

1. Market shares

In the aspect of the production of woven products, Homnyue demonstrated significant advantages through its extensive weaving equipment and strong production capacity. Among all the products, the capacity of long-fiber woven fabrics is one of the tops in Taiwan, and in the aspect of industrial textiles, the company possesses a very high market share. In recent years, the company actively develops in the field of garment fabrics, especially the enhancement in the development of stretch fabrics. Furthermore, Homnyue continues to innovate and research in areas such as home furnishings, outdoor sunshade blinds, eco-friendly composite mesh fabrics, and high-strength composite mesh fabrics to enhance its market competitiveness.

2. The demand and supply and the growth potential of markets in the future

(1). Supply:

The cost of raw materials rises in 2022, but it is still difficult to completely convert the costs to downstream products due to the decline in terminal demands.

A. Supply condition of synthetic fibers

After the outbreak of the Russo-Ukrainian War at the end of February 2022, the oil prices further surged, reaching a peak of USD114.38 per barrel for West Texas Intermediate crude oil in May 2022. This increase in oil prices also led to a corresponding rise in the prices of textile synthetic fibers. Taking the example of the nylon supply chain, the domestic price of nylon 6 chips increased from NTD 68 per kilogram in February 2022 to NTD 75 per kilogram in May 2022, representing a 10.3% increase. The price of nylon filament yarn (70 denier, round bright) rose from NTD95 per kilogram (equivalent to USD 3,390 per metric ton) in February 2022 to NTD 100 per kilogram (equivalent to USD3,441 per metric ton) in May 2022, reflecting a 5.3% increase. However, the price increases of textile synthetic fibers were relatively lower compared to the surge in oil prices, as they were influenced by the slowdown in demand in the midstream and downstream sectors.

B. Changes in the supply chain:

The prolonged delivery time in the supply chain due to the pandemic has led to continuous ordering by brands, resulting in an oversupply situation upon the arrival of goods at the port.

(2).Demand:

High inflation has curbed terminal consumer demands, ultimately leading to increased inventory for brand customers and delayed or reduced orders for Taiwanese textile suppliers. It is estimated that the export of functional fabrics will gradually improve from the second quarter of 2023, but the timing for overall market recovery still depends on factors such as oil prices, the Russo-Ukrainian War, the inflation situation, and buying sentiment during holidays in the European and American markets.

3. Competitive niche and favorable and unfavorable factors of the development prospects and response strategies:

(1). Favorable factors

A. Integrated resources on combined processes of weaving and dyeing

The new Homnyue plant in Jiujiang has officially started operations and focuses on manufacturing high-quality nylon greige fabrics for industrial and garment use. To meet market demands, we have shifted our focus towards the manufacturing of finished garments, which has become our primary business.

Following the stable operation of our new factory, we are planning to introduce phases two and three gradually, with the expansion project expected to be completed this year. Our production capacity will reach the scale of 736 weaving machines, enabling us to further meet market demands. Besides that, we expect the gross profit margin of the new plant to be 10% and a net profit margin of 5%. In the fourth quarter of 2023, we plan to launch a dyeing and finishing plant to achieve an integrated production process. This plan will further help increase the gross profit margin and provide us with more competitive advantages.

B. Sustainable products x digital marketing

In recent years, Homnyue has been committed to achieving the goal of "sustainable products x digital marketing" to reduce the overall carbon footprint of the products. To accomplish this goal, the company has been continuously promoting environmental sustainability and recently introduced brand new types of environmentally friendly high-strength nylon fabrics, including "NüPalette HT" and "NüCycle Nylon HT."

"NüPalette HT" is designed with a fabric color palette concept, with the adoption of low-pollution and low-energy consumption processes. It offers saturated colours and high colour fastness in a high-strength and environmentally friendly nylon fabric. Compared to conventional nylon fabrics, "NüPalette HT" has increased strength by 1.5 times while reducing water consumption by 85% and carbon emissions by 84%, making it a high-quality product with a competitive advantage in the industry.

Furthermore, "NüCycle Nylon HT" is made entirely from recycled nylon and can be covered by nylon film. The uniformity of raw materials leads to easier recycling and reuse. These environmentally friendly nylon fabrics not only meet the sustainability requirements of international brands, but also demonstrate Homnyue's philosophy of environmental sustainability.

Through the introduction of these environmentally friendly nylon fabrics, Homnyue has made significant progress in developing sustainable products. And by adopting digital marketing strategies, the company's ideas on environmental protection can be effectively delivered to consumers. In the future, the company will continue to strive for environmental sustainability and provide customers with more choices of eco-friendly products.

(2).Unfavorable factors

A. Global political situations

In terms of the global political situation, the Russo-Ukrainian War and the tensions in the Taiwan Strait may affect the stability of raw material prices and supply chains in the textile industry in 2023.

B. Inflation

High inflation issues will continue to impact consumer demand for textile products. However, as different countries implement tightening monetary policies, it shall help to curb the ongoing deterioration of inflation. Nevertheless, it is important to continue monitoring the situation in the short future.

C. Sustainable regulations involving carbon emission and taxes, and challenge to business operations by the mechanism

Since the whole world is increasing awareness of the issue of sustainable development, the European Union (EU) has taken the lead in proposing the Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), which is expected to be activated in 2027. This mechanism follows the principle of "polluter pays" and aims to set a price for carbon emissions generated by products exported to the EU. Many countries are preparing to follow suit. For example, on 7th June 2022, the United States Senate introduced a legislative proposal for a Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM) and discussed the formulation of the Clean Competition Act (CCA). It is expected that the imposition of a carbon tax will be implemented in 2024.

In response to the global trend of carbon reduction, international brands and customers have set sustainable development goals. For example, sportswear brands like NIKE, Adidas, and Under Armour have established targets to reduce their carbon emissions in the supply chain by 30% by 2030, based on science-based targets (SBT). Furthermore, NIKE aims to make 80% of its products from recycled materials and reduce freshwater usage in dyeing and finishing by 25% by 2025. Adidas has set targets to use 100% recycled polyester by 2024 and have 90% of its products sourced from sustainable technology, materials, or design by 2025. Lululemon aims to achieve a 50% reduction in freshwater usage in its manufacturing processes by 2025, and 75% of its products will be made from sustainable materials. For Taiwan's textile industry, complying with the sustainability standards of various countries and international brands comes with an inevitable cost. Failing to proceed and meet these standards may result in exclusion from the supply chain.

(3). Response strategies

A. Digital transformation

While continuously promoting the integration of physical upstream and downstream supply chains, Homnyue also keeps exploring digital manufacturing supply chains and is committed to cultivating talents and mindsets for digital vertical and horizontal integration. Facing the shift of challenges from issues such as shortening lead times and refining costs to digital manufacturing supply chains, we propose the "end-to-end digitization" strategy, aiming to integrate various digital manufacturing supply chains to enhance competitiveness and meet international market demands.

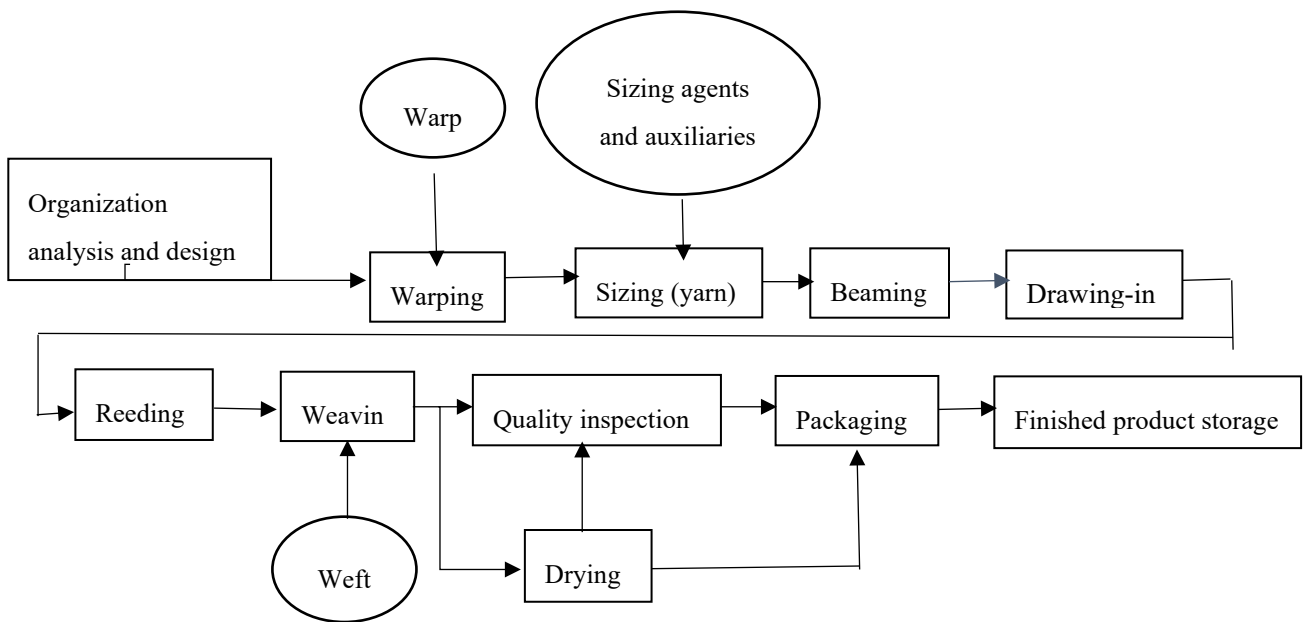

B. Low-carbon transformations and circular economy

To achieve the goal of zero carbon emissions in 2050. Companies need to actively invest in environmentally friendly equipment that meets international standards and focus on different measures in product designs such as material selection, process improvement, and the promotion of circular economy to achieve sustainable development goals. These actions will help to strengthen companies' competitiveness and seize more business opportunities in the international market.

C. High-level transformations

Homnyue is at the core of developing high-added-value industrial textiles and continues to increase the development of high-level functional textiles to enhance the additional value of products, which leads to the improvement of the company's revenue and profitability performance. Meanwhile, we actively increase the proportion of ODM (Original Design Manufacturer) to improve product production efficiency and customer satisfaction. In the future, Homnyue will continue to commit to the research and innovation of high-value-added products, and continuously enhance product line differentiation and innovation capabilities to satisfy market and customer demands. Simultaneously, we will strive to improve manufacturing capabilities and production efficiency to achieve better product quality and higher customer satisfaction.

7.5 Investment policy in the most recent fiscal year, main causes for profits or losses, improvement plans, and the investment plans for the coming year:

Investment policy: Investment in the group is based on long-term strategic targets, and undergoing the consolidation of the development of midstream and downstream of the current core business - industrial fabric. This is the basis for the decision in investment.

Major reasons for profits or losses: Foreign investment companies: The sales of the Zhejiang Homnyue Plant are affected by the quarantine policy during the pandemic in Mainland China. On the other hand, the Jiangxi Plant just entered the pilot production stage. So both plants are at losses.

7.6 Analysis and evaluation of risk matters in the most recent fiscal year and as of the publication date of the Annual Report:

- (1) The impact on the income of the company from inflation and changes in interest rates and exchange rates, along with future response measures to it:

1. The impact on the income of the company from changes in interest rates and exchange rates: Interest rate risks mainly come from bank loans with floating interest rates. When the loan interest rate fluctuates by $\pm 0.1\%$, the net profit after tax in 2022 will increase or decrease by NTD 608,000 respectively, mainly due to fluctuating interest expenses caused by loans with floating interest rates.

The exchange rate risk primarily relates to the operating activities and net investments in foreign operating agencies. in which mainly US dollars and RMB. When the exchange rate fluctuates by $\pm 1\%$, the net profit after tax in 2022 will increase or decrease by NTD 4,259,000.

2. The impact on the income of the company from inflation:

With the effects of inflation and interest rate hikes, the market demand is sluggish and the industry chain continuously adjusts its inventory. In addition to factors such as geopolitics, crude oil prices, and fluctuations in the prices of raw materials, result in fluctuations in the cost of purchasing materials and the price of products, which lead to a rise in costs and reduced profitability.

3. Future response measures:

- (1). To mitigate the interest rate risks, changes in the interest rates of the market are monitored persistently. Besides loaning in banks, the company also facilitates various fundraising tools and locks in advantageous long-term fixed-rate liabilities depending on market conditions. Thus the funds for operational needs can be raised.

- (2). The company's foreign exchange earnings are roughly balanced between US dollars and RMB. A flexible natural hedging operation is adopted and through continuous monitoring of fluctuations of the exchange rate in the market, impacts caused by significant fluctuations of the exchange rate can be responded to promptly.

- (3). The trend of international raw materials will still be monitored closely so that a marketing strategy that is the most advantageous to the company can be formulated.

- (2) Engagement in high-risk and high-leverage investments, loaning funds to others, making endorsements and guarantees, and policies of the transactions of derivatives, main reasons for profit or loss, and future response measures:

1. Engaging in high-risk and high-leverage investments: None.

- (3) Future R&D plans and the estimated amount of R&D expenses to be invested:
1. In response to the development in the post-pandemic era, the R&D of high-performance and safety and protection textiles is actively invested. They include functional products that are lightweight but strong, anti-mold and antibacterial, for medical and protection purposes, flame retardant and wear-resistant, and with sun shading effect and weather resistance. They can enhance the performance and value of terminal products.
In response to the accelerating change of the industry environment and global circular economy, and other trending issues like digital transformation and net-zero carbon emissions, there are three major directions in the core focus of the R&D of medium to long-term products, which are environmental sustainability, safety and protection, and functionality and comfort.
Relevant international environmental certification systems are continuously promoted, with the expansion of product lines that include more environmentally certified products. This will help to strengthen the corporate image as a provider of environmentally friendly and green energy products and explore the application market of new products.
There are plans to introduce relevant testing equipment for the inspection of functional products to enhance the R&D quality of our finished fabric types. Additionally, equipment related to the development of new raw materials and weaving techniques is planned to establish to align with the expansion of product lines in home decorations and garment products.

- (7) Expected benefits and potential risks for mergers and acquisitions and response measures to them:
N/A
- (8) Expected benefits, and potential risks for expanding the factory plant and response measures to them:
The expansion of the factory plant can enhance productivity and the capacity to receive more orders from customers, leading to an increase in revenue and profits and also an opportunity to expand the market share. Once production capacity reaches an economy of scale, the production costs can also be reduced significantly.
When idle capacity is generated, it is still necessary to allocate for depreciation of the factory equipment. This risk will become one of the burdens for the company.
The expansion of production capacity is carried out through meticulous planning of capital expenditure. The management team strictly evaluates its cost-effectiveness and traces its implementation results to assist the company's strategy in long-term development, financial planning, and operational performance.

The Board of Directors and Shareholders

Honmyue Enterprise Co., Ltd.

Opinion

We have conducted an audit on the consolidated financial statements of Honmyue Enterprise Co., Ltd. and subsidiaries (referred to as the "Group") for the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, which include the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity, and statements of cash flows for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2022 and 2021. We have also reviewed the notes to the consolidated financial statements, which contain a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements presented herein, which were prepared in accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers," and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, fairly present the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, as well as its consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2022 and 2021, in all material respects.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the "Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants" and the Generally Accepted Auditing Standards in the Republic of China (ROC GAAS). Our responsibility under these standards is explained further in the section titled "Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements." Our firm's staff members subject to independence requirements comply with the Codes of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants in the Republic of China and have maintained their independence from the Group, fulfilling other ethical responsibilities as per the Codes. We are of the opinion that we have obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to support our opinion.

Key Audit Matter

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters refer to those matters that, in our professional judgment, were most significant in the audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year 2022. These matters were addressed as part of our overall audit of the consolidated financial statements, and we do not express a separate opinion on them.

The key audit matters for the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year 2022 are as follows:

Cutoff Point for Revenue Recognition

Description

For accounting policies on revenue recognition, please refer to Note 4(29) in the Consolidated Financial Statements. For statement of operating revenue, please refer to Note 6(20). The Group mainly engages in the manufacturing and sales of various cotton, wool, silk, and synthetic fiber textiles. Revenue from sales is recognized when control of the goods is transferred upon arrival at the destination port, based on the terms of the transaction, and is recognized at the end of each month through manual checking of the transaction date and the actual arrival date. This revenue recognition process involves many manual judgments and operations, which may result in revenue being recorded in the wrong period. Therefore, the cutoff date for revenue from sales is regarded as one of the key audit matters to be audited this year.

Audit Procedures Undertaken in Response to the Matter

Our auditor's main audit procedures performed on the specific aspects described in the key audit matter are as follows:

1. Obtain an understanding of and evaluated the sales transaction operation procedures and internal controls, and tested these controls to assess the effectiveness of management's control over the timing of the recognition of sales revenue.
2. Verify sales transactions for a certain period before and after the balance sheet date by checking the transaction documents to confirm that sales transactions were recorded in the appropriate period.

Allowance for Inventory Valuation Losses

Description

Regarding the accounting policies for inventory valuation, please refer to Note 4(14) in the consolidated financial statements. For the significant accounting estimates and assumptions related to inventory valuation and their uncertainties, please refer to Note 5 in the consolidated financial statements. For the explanation of inventory provision for impairment, please refer to Note 6(4) in the consolidated financial statements. As of December 31, 2022, the inventory and allowance for inventory valuation losses of the Group amounted to NT$926,786 thousand and NT$111,926 thousand, respectively.

The Group mainly engages in the manufacturing and sales of various cotton, wool, silk, and synthetic fiber textiles. For inventory that has been held for a specific period of time or that has been identified as impaired, the Group measures the inventory at cost or net realizable value, whichever is lower, and provides for inventory write-downs based on the usability of inventory that has been identified as obsolete or damaged. Given that the provision for inventory valuation losses has a significant impact on the financial statements of the Group and that the valuation of inventory at net realizable value at the balance sheet date requires judgement and estimation, the assessment of the provision for inventory valuation losses is regarded as one of the key audit matters to be audited this year

Our auditor's main audit procedures performed on the specific aspects described in the key audit matter are as follows:

1. Understand the operation and nature of the Group, evaluate the reasonableness of its inventory provision policy for assessing inventory impairment losses.
2. Review the annual inventory counting plan of the Group and participate in the annual inventory count to assess the effectiveness of management's segregation and control of obsolete inventory.
3. Review the supporting documents related to the inventory aging report to verify the dates of inventory movements, confirm the proper classification of inventory into aging categories, and recalculate the aging report in accordance with the Group's policies.
4. Obtain the net realizable value reports of all inventory items, verify that the calculation logic is consistently applied, test the basis for the estimation of the net realizable value of inventory, including checking supporting documents such as sales prices, purchase prices, etc. Re-calculate and evaluate the reasonableness of the inventory valuation.

Other matter - Parent company only financial statements

Honmyue Enterprise Co., Ltd. has prepared the parent company only financial statements for the years 2022 and 2021, which have been audited by us and on which we have issued unmodified audit opinions. These reports are available for reference.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for preparing the consolidated financial statements in compliance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and maintaining adequate internal controls related to the preparation of the consolidated financial statements to ensure that there are no significant misrepresentations due to fraud or error.

Management is responsible for evaluating the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing relevant matters, and using the going concern basis of accounting when preparing the consolidated financial statements, unless management intends to liquidate the company or cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the supervisory committee) of the Group are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process.

Responsibilities of the Auditor for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The purpose of our audit of the consolidated financial statements is to obtain reasonable assurance that they are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error, and to issue an audit report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but it does not guarantee that the audit, performed in accordance with ROC GAAS, will always detect a material misstatement when one exists. Misstatements can result from fraud or error and are considered material if they could reasonably be expected, individually or in aggregate, to influence the economic decisions of users based on these financial statements.

As part of our audit in accordance with the ROC GAAS, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. In addition, we perform the following procedures:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement in the consolidated financial statements, whether caused by fraud or error. We design and perform audit procedures that are appropriate to address those risks, and obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to support our opinion. The risk of failing to detect a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than that of one due to error, because fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Design appropriate audit procedures in the given circumstances, and obtain necessary understanding of internal control that is relevant to the audit. However, our objective is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control of the Group.
3. Evaluate appropriateness of the accounting policies adopted by management, and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates and related disclosures
4. Assess the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and determine whether any events or conditions exist that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, based on the audit evidence obtained. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we will draw attention to the related disclosures in the financial statements in our audit report or modify our opinion if such disclosures are inadequate. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, it should be noted that future events or conditions may lead to the Group's inability to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the related disclosures, and determine whether the consolidated financial statements provide a fair representation of the underlying transactions and events in a manner that is appropriate.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group in order to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for directing, supervising and performing the group audit, and for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements based on the results of our audit. We communicate with the governance entity regarding various matters, such as the audit's planned scope and timeline, as well as significant audit findings, which may include significant deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit process. We also provide those charged with governance with a declaration that the personnel of our accounting firm who are subject to independence requirements have complied with the Code of Ethics for CPAs in the Republic of China concerning independence, and communicate to them any relationships and other matters that may be perceived to affect our independence, as well as any relevant safeguards. After communicating with those charged with governance, we determine the key audit matters that are of most significance in our audit of the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year 2022. We disclose these matters in our audit report, unless it is prohibited by law or regulation or, in exceptional cases. We decide not to communicate a specific matter in our report due to the potential negative impact on the public interest outweighing the benefits of such communication.

2. Preparation of financial statements in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs), International Accounting Standards, and Interpretations of IFRS that are approved and issued by the Financial Supervisory Commission requires the use of certain significant accounting estimates and the exercise of management's judgment in applying the Company's accounting policies. Such estimates and judgments involve items that are highly subjective or complex, or relate to significant assumptions and estimates used in the preparation of parent company only financial statements. Please refer to Note 5 for details.

(3) Consolidation Basis

1. Consolidated Financial Reporting Principles:

- A. All subsidiaries controlled by the Group (including structured entities) are included in the consolidated financial statements. Control over a subsidiary is obtained when the Group has the power to influence the variable returns from its involvement with the subsidiary and is exposed to or has rights to those variable returns. Subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date control is obtained and are deconsolidated from the date control ceases.
- B. Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealized gains and losses within the Group are eliminated. The accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.
- C. Components of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests; the total comprehensive income is also attributed to the owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests, even if this results in a deficit in the non-controlling interests.
- D. Changes in ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in loss of control (transactions with non-controlling interests) are accounted for as equity transactions, i.e. as transactions with the owners of the parent. The difference between the adjustment to the non-controlling interest and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity.
- E. When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the remaining investment in the former subsidiary is remeasured to fair value and recognized as either the fair value of the asset when it was initially recognized, or the cost of the investment in an associate or joint venture, with any difference between the fair value and the carrying amount recognized in profit or loss. All amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income relating to that former subsidiary are accounted for on the same basis as would be required if the relevant assets or liabilities were directly disposed of, i.e. if previously recognized in other comprehensive income, then reclassified to profit or loss upon disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in the functional currency of the Group, which is the New Taiwan Dollar.

1. Foreign Currency Transactions and Balances:

- A. Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates prevailing on the transaction date or measurement date. The resulting exchange differences are recognized in the current period's profit or loss.
- B. Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities are revalued at the exchange rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. The resulting exchange differences are recognized in the current period's profit or loss.
- C. Foreign currency non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value through profit or loss are revalued at the exchange rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. The resulting exchange differences are recognized in the current period's profit or loss. Those that are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognized in other comprehensive income. Those that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates on the initial transaction date.
- D. All exchange differences are presented in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income under the item "other income and expenses."

2. Foreign Operation Translation
 - A. For all individual companies, related enterprises, and joint agreements whose functional currencies are different from the reporting currencies, the operating results and financial positions are converted into the reporting currencies using the following methods:
 - a. Assets and liabilities presented in each balance sheet are converted using the closing exchange rate on the balance sheet date
 - b. Revenues and expenses presented in each income statement are converted using the average exchange rate for the period
 - c. All translation differences arising from translation are recognized in other comprehensive income
 - B. Translation differences of net investments in foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income.
 - C. When a partial disposal or sale of foreign operations occurs, the translation differences under other comprehensive income are proportionally reclassified to profit or loss as a component of the gain or loss on disposal
- (5) The Classification Criteria for Current and Non-current Assets and Liabilities
 1. Assets meeting any of the following criteria shall be classified as current assets:
 - A. Assets expected to be realized in the normal operating cycle or intended to be sold or consumed.
 - B. Assets held primarily for trading purposes.
 - C. Assets expected to be realized within twelve months after the balance sheet date.
 - D. Cash or cash equivalents, except for those with restrictions on exchange or use for settlement of liabilities for at least twelve months after the balance sheet date.

All assets that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current by the Group.
 2. Liabilities meeting any of the following criteria shall be classified as current liabilities:
 - A. Liabilities expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle.
 - B. Liabilities held primarily for trading purposes.
 - C. Liabilities expected to be settled within twelve months after the balance sheet date.
 - D. Liabilities cannot be deferred unconditionally beyond twelve months after the balance sheet date, except for liabilities with terms that may be settled by issuing equity instruments at the option of the counterparty, which do not affect their classification.

All liabilities that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current by the Group.
- (6) Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents refer to short-term investments that are highly liquid and can be converted into a fixed amount of cash at any time, with minimal risk of value fluctuations. Time deposits that meet the aforementioned criteria and are held for the purpose of fulfilling short-term cash commitments in operations are classified as cash equivalents.
- (7) Financial Assets at Fair Value through Profit or Loss
 1. Refers to financial assets that are not measured at amortized cost or measured at fair value through other comprehensive income.
 2. Trade date accounting for financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss that meet customary trading criteria is used by the Group.
 3. The group measures financial assets at fair value upon initial recognition, and recognizes transaction costs in profit or loss. Subsequently, any gains or losses on these financial assets are recognized in profit or loss.
 4. The Group recognizes dividend income in profit or loss when the right to receive dividends is established, and the economic benefits related to dividends are likely to flow in, and the amount of dividends can be reliably measured.

- (8) Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost
1. Refers to financial assets that meet both of the following conditions:
 - A. Assets held under a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows.
 - B. The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
 2. Trade date accounting to financial assets measured at amortized cost that meet trading customary trading criteria is used by the Group.
 3. The Group holds short-term fixed deposits that do not qualify as cash equivalents and are measured at cost due to the short-term nature of the deposits and the immateriality of the effect of discounting.
- (9) Financial Assets Measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income
1. Refers to a non-revocable choice made at the initial recognition to report the fair value changes of equity instruments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income, or to debt instrument investments that meet both of the following conditions:
 - A. Assets held under a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows and to sell the asset.
 - B. The contract terms of the financial asset give rise to cash flows on specific dates, consisting entirely of the repayment of principal and the payment of interest on outstanding principal.
 2. Trade date accounting to financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income that meet trading customary trading criteria is used by the Group.
 3. When initially recognized, the Group measures equity instruments at their fair value plus transaction costs, and subsequently measures them at fair value:
The fair value changes of equity instruments are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss when derecognized. Instead, they are transferred to retained earnings. When the right to receive dividends is established and the economic benefits related to dividends are likely to flow to the Group, and the dividend amount can be reliably measured, the Group recognizes dividend income in profit or loss.
- (10) Accounts and Notes Receivable
1. Refer to the accounts and notes receivable that represent the right to receive payment for the consideration received from the transfer of goods or services, without any conditions attached.
 2. For short-term accounts and notes receivable without interest, the impact of discounting is not significant, the Group measures them at the original invoice amount.
- (11) Impairment of Financial Asset
- The Group measures its financial assets at amortized cost on each balance sheet date, taking into consideration all reasonable and supportable information (including forward-looking information) related to credit risk, and recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses based on a 12-month expected credit loss amount for financial assets for which the credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition, and based on the lifetime expected credit loss amount for financial assets for which the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition. For trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component, the Group recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses based on the lifetime expected credit loss amount.

- (12) Derecognition of Financial Assets
When the Group's contractual rights to receive cash flows from a financial asset have expired, the financial asset is derecognized.
- (13) Operating Leases - Lease Transactions of the Lessor
The lease income from operating leases, which is not contingent on any incentives granted to the lessee, is recognized on a straight-line basis as an expense in the statement of comprehensive income over the lease term.
- (14) Inventories
Inventory is accounted for using the perpetual inventory system, with costs calculated using the weighted average method. Fixed manufacturing overhead is allocated based on the normal production capacity of the equipment, while any unallocated fixed manufacturing overhead is recognized as cost of goods sold in the period incurred. Inventory is measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value at the end of each period, with a comparison of the cost and net realizable value made using the individual-item approach. Net realizable value is estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs of completion, estimated selling expenses, and applicable taxes.
- (15) Investments in Equity Method - Associated Companies
1. An associated company refers to an entity in which the Group has significant influence but not control, typically through direct or indirect ownership of more than 20% of the voting rights. The Group accounts for its investment in associated companies using the equity method and recognizes the investment at cost upon acquisition.
 2. The Group recognizes its share of profit or loss of an associate in the income statement and its share of other comprehensive income of an associated company in other comprehensive income after its acquisition. If the Group's share of losses in an associate equals or exceeds its interest in that associate (including any other receivable that is not secured), the Group does not recognize further losses unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.
 3. When there is an equity change in the associated company that is not related to profit or loss and does not affect the shareholding percentage in the associated company, the Group will recognize the equity change attributed to the Group's interest in the associated company in proportion to its shareholding as "Capital Surplus".
 4. Unrealized gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its affiliated companies have been eliminated based on their respective ownership interests in the affiliated companies, unless there is evidence that the transferred assets have been impaired. The affiliated companies' accounting policies have been adjusted as necessary to conform to the accounting policies used by the Group.
 5. When the Group disposes of an associated enterprise and loses significant influence over it, all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income related to that associated enterprise shall be accounted for in the same manner as the disposal of assets or liabilities directly related to the Group's disposal, that is, any previously recognized gains or losses in other comprehensive income will be reclassified as income when the assets or liabilities are disposed of. If the group still has significant influence over the associated enterprise, the amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income shall be reclassified proportionally in the manner described above.

(16) Property, Plant and Equipment

1. Property, plant, and equipment are recorded at acquisition cost and interest related to the acquisition or construction period is capitalized.
2. Subsequent costs are only included in the carrying amount of an asset or recognized as a separate asset if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of a replaced part should be derecognized. All other maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.
3. Property, plant, and equipment are measured at cost model subsequently. They are depreciated using the straight-line depreciation method based on the estimated useful life, except for land, which is not depreciated. If a component of property, plant, and equipment is significant, it is separately depreciated.
4. The Group reviews the residual value, useful life, and depreciation method of each asset at the end of each financial year. If the expected residual value and useful life are different from previous estimates, or there has been a significant change in the expected consumption pattern of the future economic benefits of the asset, then the accounting estimates are adjusted in accordance with International Accounting Standard 8 “Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors” from the date of the change. The useful life of each asset is as follows:
 - Buildings and structures: 2 to 50 years
 - Machinery and equipment: 2 to 20 years
 - Transportation equipment: 2 to 10 years
 - Office equipment: 3 to 10 years
 - Other assets: 2 to 20 years

(17) Leases - Right-of-Use Assets / Lease Liabilities for Lessees

1. When a leased asset becomes available for use by the Group, it is recognized as a right-of-use asset and a lease liability. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
2. The lease liability is recognized on the lease commencement date as the present value of the remaining lease payments not yet paid, discounted at the incremental borrowing rate of the Group. Lease payments include fixed payments, net of any lease incentives that may be receivable.

The subsequent measurement is based on the effective interest rate method and is measured using the amortized cost method. Interest expense is recognized during the lease term. When there is a change in the lease term or lease payments caused by a non-contractual modification, the lease liability is re-measured and the re-measurement amount is adjusted to the right-of-use asset.
3. The right-of-use asset is recognized at cost on the lease commencement date, which includes:
 - A. The initial measurement of the lease liability.
 - B. Lease payments made at or before the commencement date.
 - C. Initial direct costs incurred; andSubsequently, the right-of-use asset is measured using the cost model, and depreciation expense is recognized over the asset’s useful life or the lease term, whichever is shorter. When the lease liability is remeasured, the right-of-use asset is adjusted for any revaluation amount of the lease liability.
- D. For lease modifications that result in a reduction in the lease scope, the lessee shall reduce the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognize the difference between it and the amount of the lease liability remeasurement in profit or loss.

- (18) Intangible Assets
1. Computer software is recognized at cost and is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 2 to 5 years.
 2. Pollution rights are recognized at cost and are amortized on a straight-line basis over their useful life of 20 years.
- (19) Impairment of Non-financial Assets
- The Group assesses, at each balance sheet date, whether there are any indicators of impairment for its assets, and estimates their recoverable amounts. If the recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. For assets that were previously impaired, if the circumstances that led to the impairment no longer exist or have improved, the impairment loss is reversed. However, the carrying amount of an asset after impairment reversal cannot exceed what the carrying amount would have been if no impairment loss had been recognized, net of any depreciation or amortization.
- (20) Borrowings
- The term "borrowings" refers to long-term or short-term funds borrowed from banks. The Group initially measures these borrowings at fair value less transaction costs. Subsequently, any differences between the carrying amount of the liability and the redemption amount are recognized as interest expense over the borrowing term using the effective interest method, which amortizes the difference between the proceeds and the redemption value over the period of the borrowing as a finance cost in the income statement.
- (21) Accounts Payable and Notes Payable
1. Refers to liabilities incurred for the purchase of raw materials, goods, or services and for operating and non-operating expenses payable by notes.
 2. Accounts payable and notes payable are short-term liabilities that do not have a significant impact from discounting, and are measured at their original invoice amounts by the Group.
When the Group's rights to receive cash flows from a financial asset have expired, the asset is derecognized.
- (22) Convertible Bonds Payable
- Convertible bonds payable issued by the Group contain embedded conversion options (the bondholders have the right to convert the bonds into a fixed number of ordinary shares of the Group) as well as put and call options. The initial issuance price is classified as a financial asset, financial liability, or equity based on the terms of the issue. The approach taken in accounting for this is as follows:
1. Embedded put and call options are initially recognized at their fair value net of any transaction costs as "financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss". Subsequently, at each balance sheet date, they are measured at their fair value, and any changes are recognized in "gain or loss on financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss".
 2. The main contract of the corporate bond is initially measured at fair value, and any difference between the redemption amounts is recognized as the discount on payables. Subsequently, the effective interest method is used to amortize the discount over the term of the bond, and the interest expense is recognized as an adjusting item of "financial costs" in the income statement.
 3. The embedded conversion option (qualifying as equity) is initially recognized at the issuance date by deducting the fair value of the "financial asset or liability at fair value through profit or loss" and "payable bonds" from the issuance proceeds, and the remaining value is recorded as "capital surplus - stock options". Subsequently, no re-measurement is made.
 4. The direct transaction costs incurred in the issuance are allocated to the respective components of liabilities and equity in proportion to their respective initial carrying amounts as described above.
 5. When the holder exercises their right to convert, the liability component (including "payable convertible bonds" and "financial assets or liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss") is processed according to its subsequent measurement method classification, and the book value of the liability component is added to the book value

- of "capital surplus - stock subscription rights" to calculate the issuance cost of the exchanged common shares.
- (23) De-recognition of Financial Liabilities
The financial liabilities shall be derecognized by the Company upon the fulfillment, cancellation, or expiration of the obligations specified in the contract.
- (24) Offset of Financial Assets and Liabilities
When there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts of financial assets and liabilities, and the intention to settle the asset and discharge the liability on a net basis or simultaneously, the financial assets and financial liabilities may be offset and presented on a net basis in the balance sheet.
- (25) Employee Benefits
1. Short-term Employee Benefits
Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of expected payment and recognized as an expense when the related service is provided.
 2. Pensions
 - A. Defined Contribution Plan
For a defined contribution plan, the amount of pension contribution that should be provided is recognized as the current period's pension cost based on the principle of liability incurred. Prepaid contributions are recognized as assets within the scope of refundable cash or reduced future payment.
 - B. Defined Benefit Plan
 - a. The net obligation of defined benefit plans is measured by discounting the future benefit amounts earned by employees for services rendered in the current or prior periods, and reducing it by the fair value of plan assets at the balance sheet date. The net obligation of the defined benefit plan is calculated annually using the projected unit credit method by an actuary, and the discount rate is based on the market yield of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) that have the same currency and maturity as the benefit obligation of the defined benefit plan.
 - b. The remeasurements of defined benefit plans are recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise and are presented in retained earnings.
 - c. The related expenses of prior service cost are recognized immediately in profit or loss.
 3. Severance Benefits
Severance benefits are benefits provided to employees upon termination of their employment prior to their normal retirement date or when employees accept a company offer to terminate their employment in exchange for benefits. The Group recognizes the expense of severance benefits when it is no longer able to withdraw the offer of such benefits or when the recognition of related restructuring costs is earlier. Severance benefits that are not expected to be settled in full within 12 months after the balance sheet date should be discounted.

4. Employee, Director and Supervisor's Compensation
Employees', directors', supervisors' compensation are recognized as expenses and liabilities when there is a legal or constructive obligation and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Any difference between the estimated and actual amounts distributed by the Board of Directors is recognized as an accounting estimate change. In the case of stock-based employee compensation, the number of shares is calculated based on the closing price on the day prior to the Board of Directors' decision.
- (26) Income Taxes
1. The income tax expense includes current and deferred taxes. Except for income taxes related to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, income taxes are recognized in income.
 2. The Group calculates current income tax based on the legislated tax rates in the countries where it operates and generates taxable income as of the balance sheet date. The management assesses the status of income tax filings in accordance with applicable tax laws and estimates the income tax liabilities based on the expected tax payments to tax authorities, as appropriate. The undistributed earnings are subject to income tax in accordance with the income tax law, and income tax expenses on undistributed earnings are recognized only after the annual general meeting approves the distribution of the actual earnings in the following year.
 3. Deferred income tax is recognized based on the balance sheet method, which means that temporary differences between the tax base and the carrying amount of assets and liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet are recognized. If the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction (excluding a business combination) that at the time of the transaction did not affect accounting profit or taxable income (tax loss), it shall not be recognized. If temporary differences arising from the subsidiary can be controlled by the Group as to the timing of reversal, and it is probable that such temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future, they shall not be recognized. Deferred income taxes are measured based on the tax rates expected to apply when the related deferred tax assets are realized or the deferred tax liabilities are settled, as of the balance sheet date.
 4. Deferred tax assets are recognized for temporary differences that are very likely to be utilized to offset future taxable income within the scope of recognition. These deferred tax assets are re-evaluated at each balance sheet date for amounts not recognized and already recognized.
 5. When there is a legal right to offset the recognized current income tax assets and liabilities and there is an intention to settle the net amount or simultaneously realize assets and settle liabilities on a net basis, then the current income tax assets and liabilities shall be offset. If there is a legal right to offset the current income tax assets and liabilities and there is an intention to settle the net amount on a net basis or simultaneously realize the asset and settle the liability, and the deferred income tax assets and liabilities are levied on income tax by the same tax authority as the same taxpayer, the deferred income tax assets and liabilities shall be offset.
- (27) Share Capital
Common stock is classified as equity. The net amount after deducting income tax directly attributable to the increase in cost of issuing new shares or stock options is recorded as a deduction from equity in the statement of financial position.
- (28) Dividend Distribution
The dividends distributed to the shareholders of the Company are recognized in the financial statements when they are approved by the Company's shareholders' meeting. Cash dividends are recognized as liabilities.

(29) Revenue Recognition

Sales of goods

1. The main business of the Group is the manufacturing, printing, dyeing, and processing of various cotton, wool, silk and synthetic fiber textiles for domestic and international sales. Revenue is recognized when control over the product is transferred to the customer, which occurs when the product is delivered to the customer. The customer has the discretion to determine the sales route and price of the product, and the Group has no remaining performance obligations that could affect the customer's acceptance of the product. When the product is shipped to the designated location, the risks of obsolescence, deterioration, and loss have been transferred to the customer, and the customer has accepted the product according to the sales contract, or there is objective evidence that all acceptance criteria have been met, the point of delivery has occurred.
2. Sales revenue is recognized as net of estimated sales returns and allowances based on the contract price. Payment terms for sales transactions typically range from 30 to 120 days after shipment. As the time period between transferring goods or services to customers and their payment does not exceed one year, the Group does not adjust transaction prices to reflect the time value of money.
3. The contract liability for customer prepayments in the sales contract of the Group is recognized as revenue when control of the product is transferred to the customer.

(30) Government Grants

Government grants are recognized at fair value when it is reasonably certain that the entity will comply with the conditions attached to the grant and that the grant will be received. If the nature of the government grant is to compensate the Group for expenses incurred, the grant is recognized as income in the statement of comprehensive income systematically on a basis consistent with the recognition of the related expenses.

(31) Operating Segments

The information of the operating segments of the Group provided to the primary operating decision-makers in the internal management report is reported consistently. The primary operating decision-makers are responsible for allocating resources to the operating segments and evaluating their performance.

5. Main Sources of Significant Accounting Judgments, Estimates, and Assumptions Uncertainty

When preparing the consolidated financial statements, the management of the Group has exercised judgment in determining the accounting policies to be adopted and has made accounting estimates and assumptions based on reasonable expectations of future events as of the date of the balance sheet. The significant accounting estimates and assumptions made may differ from actual results, and such estimates and assumptions will be continually evaluated and adjusted in consideration of historical experience and other factors. These estimates and assumptions have the potential to cause significant adjustments to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the next financial year. Please see below for a detailed explanation of the main sources of significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions uncertainties:

Valuation of Inventory

Due to the inventory must be valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, the Group needs to exercise judgment and estimation to determine the net realizable value of inventory as of the balance sheet date. The Group evaluates inventory as of the balance sheet date based on the amount that is expected to be realized from normal usage, obsolescence, or lack of market demand, and reduces the inventory cost to the net realizable value. The inventory valuation is mainly based on the estimation of product demand within a specific future period, and therefore, may involve significant changes.

As of December 31, 2022, the carrying amount of inventory was NT$814,860 thousand.

(1) Capital Management

The capital management objective of the Group is to ensure the continued operation of the Group, maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce funding costs, and provide returns to shareholders. To maintain the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders or issue new shares to reduce debt. The Group uses the debt-to-asset ratio to monitor its capital, which is calculated by dividing the total amount of debt by the total amount of assets.

During the year 2022, the Group continued to pursue the same strategy as in year 2021, focusing on reducing the debt-to-asset ratio to a reasonable level of risk. As of December 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021, the Group's debt-to-asset ratios were as follows:

2. Risk Management Policy

- A. The daily operations of the Group are subject to various financial risks, including market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk, and price risk), credit risk, and liquidity risk.
- B. The management of financial risks is carried out by the Company's finance department in accordance with the policies approved by the Board of Directors. The finance department closely collaborates with the various business units and the Office of the Chairman to identify, assess and mitigate financial risks. The execution of financial risk management is carried out in accordance with the Company's internal management rules and internal control systems. The process and results of its execution shall comply with legal regulations. The Board of Directors of the Group oversees the adherence to the financial risk policies and procedures by the management, and reviews the adequacy of the framework for managing the relevant financial risks. The internal audit personnel assist the Board of Directors in its supervisory role by conducting regular and ad hoc reviews, and reporting the results to the Board.

3. Nature and Extent of Significant Financial Risks

A. Market Risk

Currency Risk

- a. The Group operates globally and is therefore exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from transactions in functional currencies different from that of the Company and its subsidiaries, mainly the US dollar and Chinese Renminbi. The related foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognized assets and liabilities.
- b. The management of the Group has established policies governing the management of the foreign exchange risk with respect to its functional currencies. Each company within the Group is required to manage its overall foreign exchange risk through the Group's finance department. The measurement of foreign exchange risk is based on the expected transactions of highly probable outflows in US dollars and Chinese Renminbi.

- c. The Group's operations involve several non-functional currencies (the functional currencies of the Company and certain subsidiaries are New Taiwan Dollar, Renminbi and US Dollar), and are therefore subject to the impact of exchange rate fluctuations. The significant foreign currency assets and liabilities that are affected by exchange rate fluctuations are as follows:

December 31, 2022

(Foreign Currency: Functional Currency)	Foreign Currency Amount (thousands)	Exchange Rate	Book Value (TWD in thousand)	Sensitivity		Impact on Profit and Loss	Impact on Other Comprehensive Income

Financial Liabilities
Monetary items
USD:RMB (Note)	$ 9,000	6.37	$ 245,960	1%		$ 2,460	$ -

Note: As some of the functional currencies of the entities included in the consolidation are not New Taiwan Dollar, this has also been taken into consideration in the disclosure.

The overall exchange gain/loss (realized and unrealized) recognized in the year 2022 and 2021 related to the significant impact of exchange rate fluctuations on the monetary items of the Group amounted to a net gain of NT$10,589 thousand and a net gain of NT$3,019 thousand, respectively.

Price Risk

- The equity instruments exposed to price risk are the financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and the financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. In order to manage the price risk of equity instrument investments, the Group diversifies its investment portfolio in accordance with the limits set by the Group.
- The Group mainly invests in equity instruments issued by domestic companies, the prices of which are affected by the uncertainty of the future value of the investment target. If the prices of these equity instruments rise or fall by 1% while all other factors remain unchanged, the post-tax net profit for the years 2022 and 2021 will increase or decrease by NT$73 thousand and NT$108 thousand, respectively, due to the gains or losses from equity instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss. The gains or losses from equity investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income will increase or decrease by NT$478 thousand and NT$705 thousand, respectively.

Cash Flow and Fair Value Interest Rate Risk

- a. The Group's interest rate risk arises primarily from short-term borrowings, short-term notes payable, and long-term borrowings issued at floating rates, which expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk. In 2022 and 2021, the Group's borrowings issued at floating rates were primarily denominated in New Taiwan Dollars and US Dollars.
- b. If the borrowing interest rate increases or decreases by 0.1%, while all other factors remain constant, the after-tax net profit for the years 2022 and 2021 will increase or decrease by NT$608 thousand and NT$1,032 thousand, respectively. This is mainly due to the variability of interest expense resulting from the floating-rate borrowings.

B. Credit Risk

- a. The credit risk of the Group arises from the risk of financial loss due to counterparties' failure to fulfill their contractual obligations in transactions with customers or financial instruments. This risk mainly comes from counterparties' inability to settle receivables according to the payment terms.
- b. The Group examines the creditworthiness of banks and financial institutions with which it deals and accepts them as counterparties only after assessing their credit quality to be satisfactory. In accordance with the internally established credit policy, each operating entity within the Group and each new customer must undergo management and credit risk analysis before the terms and conditions of payment and delivery are established. Internal risk management is achieved by evaluating the credit quality of customers through consideration of their financial condition, past experience, and other factors. Individual risk limits are established by the Board of Directors based on internal or external ratings, and the use of credit limits is monitored regularly.
- c. The Group adopts a credit risk management procedure to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk for financial instruments since their initial recognition. When contractually due payments are past due for more than 90 days, it is considered that the credit risk of the financial asset has significantly increased since its initial recognition, and individual assessment is applied.
- d. The Group classifies its trade receivables and contract assets by customer credit ratings, and uses a simplified approach based on the loss rate method to estimate expected credit losses.
- e. The Group first evaluates and recognizes impairment losses for individual receivables for which objective evidence indicates that they cannot be collected. For other receivables, the Group estimates expected credit losses using a simplified approach based on the loss rate method, which is established based on historical and current information over a specific period and with future forward-looking considerations. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, the accumulated impairment loss amount for individually assessed receivables was NT$7,464 thousand and NT$8,465 thousand, respectively. The Group estimates the impairment loss for other receivables by adjusting the loss rate established based on historical and current information over a specific period with future forward-looking considerations, and the accumulated impairment loss amount was NT$2,928 thousand and NT$4,058 thousand for 2021 and 2022, respectively. The provision matrix is presented as follows:

(3) Fair Value Information

1. The definitions of each level of valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments are as follows:

Level 1: The fair value of assets or liabilities measured on the reporting date is based on quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in an active market. An active market is a market in which transactions for the assets or liabilities occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. The fair value of the listed equity investments held by the Group belongs to this level.

Level 2: The fair value of assets or liabilities is determined using directly or indirectly observable inputs, but not including quoted prices included in Level 1. Non-listed equity investments held by the Group belong to this level.

Level 3: The fair value of assets or liabilities is determined using unobservable inputs. The redemption feature of convertible bonds issued by the Group and equity instruments without an active market held by the Group belong to this level.

2. Financial Instruments not Measured at Fair Value

A. The financial instruments of this Group that are not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, financial assets measured at amortized cost, notes receivable (including related parties), accounts receivable (including related parties), other receivables, deposits received, short-term borrowings, short-term notes payables, commercial papers payable (including related parties), accounts payable (including related parties), other payables, long-term borrowings (including those due within one year or one operating cycle), deposits received from customers, and lease liabilities (including those due within one year or one operating cycle)) are reasonably approximated at fair value by their carrying amounts, except for those listed in the following table:

	December 31, 2022
	Carrying Amount	Level 1	Fair Value Level 2	Level 3
Financial Liabilities:
Bonds Payable	$ 287,569	$ -	$ 287,580	$ -

As of December 31, 2021, the Company did not hold such financial instrument.

B. The methods and assumptions used to estimate fair value are as follows:

The bonds payable are measured at the present value of expected future cash flows using market interest rates as of the balance sheet date.

3. The financial and non-financial instruments measured at fair value by the Group are classified based on the nature, characteristics, risk, and fair value hierarchy of the assets and liabilities. The relevant information is as follows:

A. The instruments are classified by the Group based on the nature of the assets and liabilities, and the information is presented below:

- B. The methods and assumptions used by the Group to measure fair value are described as follows:
- a. The Group uses market quotes as fair value input for Level 1 instruments, classified by instrument type as follows:

Listed Equity Securities

Market Quotes

Closing Price

- b. The investment in Changhua Golf Club Co., Ltd. by the Group is valued using publicly quoted member certificate prices as the input for fair value measurement (Level 2).
 - c. The output of the valuation models is an estimated fair value, which may not reflect all relevant factors of the financial and non-financial instruments held by the Group. Therefore, the estimated fair value is appropriately adjusted based on additional parameters, such as model risk or liquidity risk. According to the Group's fair value measurement policies and related control procedures, the management believes that such adjustments are necessary and appropriate to reasonably represent the fair values of the financial and non-financial instruments in the consolidated balance sheet. The pricing information and parameters used in the valuation process are prudently evaluated and appropriately adjusted based on current market conditions, in accordance with the Group's fair value measurement policies.
 - d. The Group incorporates credit risk adjustments into the fair value measurement of financial and non-financial instruments to reflect both counterparty credit risk and the Company's own credit quality.
4. There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 during years 2022 and 2021.
5. The following table shows the changes in Level 3 as of December 31, 2022 and 2021:

	2022	2021
Beginning Balance	$ 83,833	$ 75,500

Gain or Loss recognized in other comprehensive income	(28,690)	8,333
Ending Balance	$ 55,323	$ 83,833

6. The Group's valuation process for Level 3 investments of illiquid equity instruments involves independent fair value verification by the Group's finance department, using independent sources of data to ensure that the valuation results are consistent with market conditions and represent executable prices. The process includes regular calibration of valuation models, back-testing, updating of model inputs and data, and any other necessary fair value adjustments to ensure that the valuation results are reasonable. The fair value of the bonds payable and convertible bonds redemption rights is valued by external valuers.

7. The quantitative information of significant unobservable input used in the valuation model for Level 3 fair value measurement items and sensitivity analysis of significant unobservable input changes are described as follows: :

	Fair Value at Dec. 31, 2022	Valuation Technique	Significant Unobservable Inputs	Range (Weighted Average)	Relationship between Inputs and Fair Value
Non-derivative Equity Instruments

Redemption Rights of Convertible Bonds	180	Binomial Tree Pricing Model	Stock Price Volatility	20.6%	Higher stock price volatility leads to higher fair values.

8. The Group has carefully assessed the selection of valuation models and parameters. However, the use of different valuation models or parameters may result in different valuation results. Independent Auditors' Report
(2023) Ministry of Finance approved No. 22004980

The Board of Directors and Shareholders
Honmyue Enterprise Co., Ltd.

We have conducted an audit on the parent company only financial statements of Honmyue Enterprise Co., Ltd. (referred to as "Honmyue") for the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, which include the parent company only balance sheets, statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity, and statements of cash flows for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2022 and 2021. We have also reviewed the notes to the individual financial statements, which contain a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the parent company only financial statements presented herein, which were prepared in accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers," fairly present the parent company only financial position of Honmyue as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, as well as its parent company only financial performance and parent company only cash flows for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2022 and 2021, in all material respects.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the "Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants" and the Generally Accepted Auditing Standards in the Republic of China (ROC GAAS). Our responsibility under these standards is explained further in the section titled "Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements." Our firm's staff members subject to independence requirements comply with the Codes of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountants in the Republic of China and have maintained their independence from Honmyue, fulfilling other ethical responsibilities as per the Codes. We are of the opinion that we have obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to support our opinion.

Key Audit Matter

Key audit matters refer to those matters that, in our professional judgment, were most significant in the audit of Honmyue's parent company only financial statements for the year 2022. These matters were addressed as part of our overall audit of the individual financial statements, and we do not express a separate opinion on them.

The key audit matters for Honmyue's individual financial statements for the year 2022 are as follows:

Cutoff Point for Revenue Recognition

Description

For accounting policies on revenue recognition, please refer to Note 4(28) in the Parent Company Only Financial Statements. For statement of operating revenue, please refer to Note 6(20). For accounting policies on revenue recognition, please refer to Note 4(28) in the Parent Company Only Financial Statements. For statement of operating revenue, please refer to Note 6(20). Honmyue mainly engages in the manufacturing and sales of various cotton, wool, silk, and synthetic fiber textiles. Revenue from sales is recognized when control of the goods is transferred upon arrival at the destination port, based on the terms of the transaction, and is recognized at the end of each month through manual checking of the transaction date and the actual arrival date. This revenue recognition process involves many manual judgments and operations, which may result in revenue being recorded in the wrong period. As this issue also exists in the subsidiary companies held by Honmyue, which are accounted for using the equity method, the cutoff date for revenue from sales is regarded as one of the key audit matters to be audited this year.

Audit Procedures Undertaken in Response to the Matter

Our auditor's main audit procedures performed on the specific aspects described in the key audit matter are as follows:

1. We gained an understanding of and evaluated the sales transaction operation procedures and internal controls, and tested these controls to assess the effectiveness of management's control over the timing of the recognition of sales revenue.
2. We verified sales transactions for a certain period before and after the balance sheet date by checking the transaction documents to confirm that sales transactions were recorded in the appropriate period.

Allowance for Inventory Valuation Losses

Description

Regarding the accounting policies for inventory valuation, please refer to Note 4(12) in the individual financial statements. For the significant accounting estimates and assumptions related to inventory valuation and their uncertainties, please refer to Note 5 in the individual financial statements. For the explanation of inventory provision for impairment, please refer to Note 6(4) in the individual financial statements. As of December 31, 2022, the inventory and allowance for inventory valuation losses of Honmyue amounted to NT$672,521 thousand and NT$66,049 thousand, respectively.

Honmyue mainly engages in the manufacturing and sales of various cotton, wool, silk, and synthetic fiber textiles. For inventory that has been held for a specific period of time or that has been identified as impaired, the Company measures the inventory at cost or net realizable value, whichever is lower, and provides for inventory write-downs based on the usability of inventory that has been identified as obsolete or damaged. Given that the provision for inventory valuation losses has a significant impact on the financial statements of Honmyue and that the valuation of inventory at net realizable value at the balance sheet date requires judgement and estimation, and since the aforementioned matter also exists in the subsidiary companies held by Honmyue accounted for using the equity method, the assessment of the provision for inventory valuation losses is regarded as one of the key audit matters to be audited this year

Audit Procedures Undertaken in Response to the Matter

Our auditor's main audit procedures performed on the specific aspects described in the key audit matter are as follows:

1. Understand the operation and nature of Honmyue, evaluate the reasonableness of its inventory provision policy for assessing inventory impairment losses.
2. Review the annual inventory counting plan of Honmyue and participate in the annual inventory count to assess the effectiveness of management's segregation and control of obsolete inventory.
3. Review the supporting documents related to the inventory aging report to verify the dates of inventory movements, confirm the proper classification of inventory into aging categories, and recalculate the aging report in accordance with the Company's policies.
4. Obtain the net realizable value reports of all inventory items, verify that the calculation logic is consistently applied, test the basis for the estimation of the net realizable value of inventory, including checking supporting documents such as sales prices, purchase prices, etc. Re-calculate and evaluate the reasonableness of the inventory valuation.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for preparing the parent company only financial statements in compliance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and maintaining adequate internal controls related to the preparation of the parent company only financial statements to ensure that there are no significant misrepresentations due to fraud or error.

Management is responsible for evaluating Honmyue's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing relevant matters, and using the going concern basis of accounting when preparing the parent company only financial statements, unless management intends to liquidate the company or cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including the supervisory committee) of Honmyue are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process.

Responsibilities of the Auditor for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

The purpose of our audit of the parent company only financial statements is to obtain reasonable assurance that they are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error, and to issue an audit report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but it does not guarantee that the audit, performed in accordance with ROC GAAS, will always detect a material misstatement when one exists.

Misstatements can result from fraud or error and are considered material if they could reasonably be expected, individually or in aggregate, to influence the economic decisions of users based on these financial statements.

As part of our audit in accordance with the ROC GAAS, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. In addition, we perform the following procedures:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement in the parent company only financial statements, whether caused by fraud or error. We design and perform audit procedures that are appropriate to address those risks, and obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to support our opinion. The risk of failing to detect a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than that of one due to error, because fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Design appropriate audit procedures in the given circumstances, and obtain necessary understanding of internal control that is relevant to the audit. However, our objective is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control of Honmyue.
3. Evaluate appropriateness of the accounting policies adopted by management, and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates and related disclosures
4. Assess the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and determine whether any events or conditions exist that may cast significant doubt on Honmyue's ability to continue as a going concern, based on the audit evidence obtained. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we will draw attention to the related disclosures in the financial statements in our audit report or modify our opinion if such disclosures are inadequate. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, it should be noted that future events or conditions may lead to the Honmyue's inability to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the related disclosures, and determine whether the parent only financial statements provide a fair representation of the underlying transactions and events in a manner that is appropriate.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within Honmyue in order to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for directing, supervising and performing the group audit, and for forming an opinion on the parent company only financial statements based on the results of our audit.

We communicate with the governance entity regarding various matters, such as the audit's planned scope and timeline, as well as significant audit findings, which may include significant deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit process.

We also provide those charged with governance with a declaration that the personnel of our accounting firm who are subject to independence requirements have complied with the Code of Ethics for CPAs in the Republic of China concerning independence, and communicate to them any relationships and other matters that may be perceived to affect our independence, as well as any relevant safeguards.

After communicating with those charged with governance, we determine the key audit matters that are of most significance in our audit of Honmyue's parent company only financial statements for the year 2022. We disclose these matters in our audit report, unless it is prohibited by law or regulation or, in exceptional cases. We decide not to communicate a specific matter in our report due to the potential negative impact on the public interest outweighing the benefits of such communication.

- A. Assets expected to be realized in the normal operating cycle or intended to be sold or consumed.
- B. Assets held primarily for trading purposes.
- C. Assets expected to be realized within twelve months after the balance sheet date.
- D. Cash or cash equivalents, except for those with restrictions on exchange or use for settlement of liabilities for at least twelve months after the balance sheet date.

All assets that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current by the Company.

2. Liabilities meeting any of the following criteria shall be classified as current liabilities:

- A. Liabilities expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle.
- B. Liabilities held primarily for trading purposes.
- C. Liabilities expected to be settled within twelve months after the balance sheet date.
- D. Liabilities cannot be deferred unconditionally beyond twelve months after the balance sheet date, except for liabilities with terms that may be settled by issuing equity instruments at the option of the counterparty, which do not affect their classification.

All liabilities that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current by the Company.

- (5) Cash Equivalents
Cash equivalents refer to short-term investments that are highly liquid and can be converted into a fixed amount of cash at any time, with minimal risk of value fluctuations. Time deposits that meet the aforementioned criteria and are held for the purpose of fulfilling short-term cash commitments in operations are classified as cash equivalents.
- (6) Financial Assets Measured at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income
1. Refers to a non-revocable choice made at the initial recognition to report the fair value changes of equity instruments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income, or to debt instrument investments that meet both of the following conditions:
 - A. Assets held under a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows and to sell the asset.
 - B. The contract terms of the financial asset give rise to cash flows on specific dates, consisting entirely of the repayment of principal and the payment of interest on outstanding principal.
 2. Trade date accounting to financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income that meet trading customary trading criteria is used by the Company.
 3. When initially recognized, the Company measures equity instruments at their fair value plus transaction costs, and subsequently measures them at fair value:
The fair value changes of equity instruments are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss when derecognized. Instead, they are transferred to retained earnings. When the right to receive dividends is established and the economic benefits related to dividends are likely to flow to the Company, and the dividend amount can be reliably measured, the Company recognizes dividend income in profit or loss.
- (7) Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost
1. Refers to financial assets that meet both of the following conditions:
 - A. Assets held under a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows.
 - B. The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.
 2. Trade date accounting to financial assets measured at amortized cost that meet trading customary trading criteria is used by the Company.
 3. The Company holds short-term fixed deposits that do not qualify as cash equivalents and are measured at cost due to the short-term nature of the deposits and the immateriality of the effect of discounting.
- (8) Accounts and Notes Receivable
1. Refer to the accounts and notes receivable that represent the right to receive payment for the consideration received from the transfer of goods or services, without any conditions attached.
 2. For short-term accounts and notes receivable without interest, the impact of discounting is not significant, the Company measures them at the original invoice amount.

- (9) Impairment of Financial Asset
The Company measures its financial assets at amortized cost on each balance sheet date, taking into consideration all reasonable and supportable information (including forward-looking information) related to credit risk, and recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses based on a 12-month expected credit loss amount for financial assets for which the credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition, and based on the lifetime expected credit loss amount for financial assets for which the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition. For trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component, the Company recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses based on the lifetime expected credit loss amount.
- (10) Derecognition of Financial Assets
When the Company's contractual rights to receive cash flows from a financial asset have expired, the financial asset is derecognized.
- (11) Operating Leases - Lease Transactions of the Lessor
The lease income from operating leases, which is not contingent on any incentives granted to the lessee, is recognized on a straight-line basis as an expense in the statement of comprehensive income over the lease term.
- (12) Inventories
Inventory is accounted for using the perpetual inventory system, with costs calculated using the weighted average method. Fixed manufacturing overhead is allocated based on the normal production capacity of the equipment, while any unallocated fixed manufacturing overhead is recognized as cost of goods sold in the period incurred. Inventory is measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value at the end of each period, with a comparison of the cost and net realizable value made using the individual-item approach. Net realizable value is estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs of completion, estimated selling expenses, and applicable taxes.
- (13) Investments in Equity Method - Associates/Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies
1. A subsidiary refers to an entity (including structured entities) controlled by the Company. The Company controls an entity when it is exposed or has rights to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.
 2. The unrealized gains and losses arising from transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated. The accounting policies of the subsidiaries have been adjusted as necessary to be consistent with those of the Company.
 3. The Company recognizes the profit or loss attributable to the subsidiary's equity as current period income and the other comprehensive income attributable to the subsidiary's equity as other comprehensive income after acquiring a subsidiary. If the loss recognized by this company equals or exceeds the subsidiary's equity, the Company continues to recognize the loss in proportion to its shareholding.
 4. An associated company refers to entities in which this company has significant influence but not control, typically through direct or indirect ownership of more than 20% of the voting rights. The Company accounts for its investment in associated companies using the equity method and recognizes the investment at cost upon acquisition.
 5. The Company recognizes the profit or loss attributable to its shareholding in the associated company as current period income, and the other comprehensive income attributable to its shareholding as other comprehensive income. If the loss recognized by the Company in any associated company equals or exceeds its interest in that associated company (including any other unsecured receivables), the Company does not recognize further losses, unless it has incurred legal or constructive obligations or has made payments on behalf of the associated company. The investment in associated companies is accounted for using the equity method, and it is recognized at cost when acquired.

6. When there is an equity change in the associated company that is not related to profit or loss and does not affect the shareholding percentage in the associated company, the Company will recognize the equity change attributed to the Company's interest in the associated company in proportion to its shareholding as "Capital Surplus".
 7. Unrealized gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Company and its affiliated companies have been eliminated based on their respective ownership interests in the affiliated companies, unless there is evidence that the transferred assets have been impaired. The affiliated companies' accounting policies have been adjusted as necessary to conform to the accounting policies used by the Company.
 8. If an associate issues new shares and the Group does not subscribe or acquire them in proportion to its shareholding, causing a change in its ownership interest but still exerting significant influence over the associate, any resulting change in the equity of the associate is adjusted in the "Capital reserve" and "Investment in equity method." If the ownership interest decreases, in addition to the above adjustment, any related gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income related to the equity component that decreased shall be reclassified to profit or loss when disposing of the related assets or liabilities, based on the proportion of decrease.
 9. When the Company disposes of an associated company and loses significant influence over it, all amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income related to that associated enterprise shall be accounted for in the same manner as the disposal of assets or liabilities directly related to the Company's disposal, that is, any previously recognized gains or losses in other comprehensive income will be reclassified as income when the assets or liabilities are disposed of. If the Company still has significant influence over the associated enterprise, the amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income shall be reclassified proportionally in the manner described above.
 10. According to the financial reporting standards for issuers of securities, the profit or loss and other comprehensive income in the individual financial statements should be allocated to the owners of the parent company in the same manner as the profit or loss and other comprehensive income attributable to the owners of the parent company in the consolidated financial statements. The owner's equity in the parent company only financial statements should be the same as the equity attributable to the owners of the parent company in the consolidated financial statements.
- (14) Property, Plant and Equipment
1. Property, plant, and equipment are recorded at acquisition cost and interest related to the acquisition or construction period is capitalized.
 2. Subsequent costs are only included in the carrying amount of an asset or recognized as a separate asset if it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of a replaced part should be derecognized. All other maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.
 3. Property, plant, and equipment are measured at cost model subsequently. They are depreciated using the straight-line depreciation method based on the estimated useful life, except for land, which is not depreciated. If a component of property, plant, and equipment is significant, it is separately depreciated.
 4. The Company reviews the residual value, useful life, and depreciation method of each asset at the end of each financial year. If the expected residual value and useful life are different from previous estimates, or there has been a significant change in the expected consumption pattern of the future economic benefits of the asset, then the accounting estimates are adjusted in accordance with International Accounting Standard 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors" from the date of the change. The useful life of each asset is as follows:

Buildings and structures: 2 to 50 years
Machinery and equipment: 2 to 15 years
Transportation equipment: 2 to 10 years
Office equipment: 5 to 10 years
Other assets: 2 to 10 years

(15) Leases - Right-of-Use Assets / Lease Liabilities for Lessees

1. When a leased asset becomes available for use by the Company, it is recognized as a right-of-use asset and a lease liability. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognized as expenses on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
2. The lease liability is recognized on the lease commencement date as the present value of the remaining lease payments not yet paid, discounted at the incremental borrowing rate of the Company. Lease payments include fixed payments, net of any lease incentives that may be receivable.
The subsequent measurement is based on the effective interest rate method and is measured using the amortized cost method. Interest expense is recognized during the lease term. When there is a change in the lease term or lease payments caused by a non-contractual modification, the lease liability is re-measured and the re-measurement amount is adjusted to the right-of-use asset.
3. The right-of-use asset is recognized at cost on the lease commencement date, which includes:
 - A. The initial measurement of the lease liability.
 - B. Lease payments made at or before the commencement date.
 - C. Initial direct costs incurred; andSubsequently, the right-of-use asset is measured using the cost model, and depreciation expense is recognized over the asset's useful life or the lease term, whichever is shorter. When the lease liability is remeasured, the right-of-use asset is adjusted for any revaluation amount of the lease liability.
4. For lease modifications that result in a reduction in the lease scope, the lessee shall reduce the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognize the difference between it and the amount of the lease liability remeasurement in profit or loss.

(16) Investment Property

Investment property is recognized at cost and subsequently measured using the cost model. Except for land, depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life, with a useful life of 18 years for buildings and structures.

(17) Intangible Assets

Computer software is recognized at cost and is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 3 to 5 years.

(18) Impairment of Non-financial Assets

The Company assesses, at each balance sheet date, whether there are any indicators of impairment for its assets, and estimates their recoverable amounts. If the recoverable amount is lower than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. For assets that were previously impaired, if the circumstances that led to the impairment no longer exist or have improved, the impairment loss is reversed. However, the carrying amount of an asset after impairment reversal cannot exceed what the carrying amount would have been if no impairment loss had been recognized, net of any depreciation or amortization.

(19) Borrowings

The term "borrowings" refers to long-term or short-term funds borrowed from banks. The Company initially measures these borrowings at fair value less transaction costs. Subsequently, any differences between the carrying amount of the liability and the redemption amount are recognized as interest expense over the borrowing term using the effective interest method, which amortizes the difference between the proceeds and the redemption value over the period of the borrowing as a finance cost in the income statement.

(20) Accounts Payable and Notes Payable

1. Refers to liabilities incurred for the purchase of raw materials, goods, or services and for operating and non-operating expenses payable by notes.
2. Accounts payable and notes payable are short-term liabilities that do not have a significant impact from discounting, and are measured at their original invoice amounts by the Company.

(21) Convertible Bonds Payable

Convertible bonds payable issued by the Group contain embedded conversion options (the bondholders have the right to convert the bonds into a fixed number of ordinary shares of the Group) as well as put and call options. The initial issuance price is classified as a financial asset, financial liability, or equity based on the terms of the issue. The approach taken in accounting for this is as follows:

1. Embedded put and call options are initially recognized at their fair value net of any transaction costs as "financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss". Subsequently, at each balance sheet date, they are measured at their fair value, and any changes are recognized in "gain or loss on financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss".
2. The main contract of the corporate bond is initially measured at fair value, and any difference between the redemption amounts is recognized as the discount on payables. Subsequently, the effective interest method is used to amortize the discount over the term of the bond, and the interest expense is recognized as an adjusting item of "financial costs" in the income statement.
3. The embedded conversion option (qualifying as equity) is initially recognized at the issuance date by deducting the fair value of the "financial asset or liability at fair value through profit or loss" and "payable bonds" from the issuance proceeds, and the remaining value is recorded as "capital surplus - stock options". Subsequently, no re-measurement is made.
4. The direct transaction costs incurred in the issuance are allocated to the respective components of liabilities and equity in proportion to their respective initial carrying amounts as described above.
5. When the holder exercises their right to convert, the liability component (including "payable convertible bonds" and "financial assets or liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss") is processed according to its subsequent measurement method classification, and the book value of the liability component is added to the book value of "capital surplus - stock subscription rights" to calculate the issuance cost of the exchanged common shares.

(22) Derecognition of Financial Liabilities

The financial liabilities shall be derecognized by the Company upon the fulfillment, cancellation, or expiration of the obligations specified in the contract.

(23) Offset of Financial Assets and Liabilities

When there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts of financial assets and liabilities, and the intention to settle the asset and discharge the liability on a net basis or simultaneously, the financial assets and financial liabilities may be offset and presented on a net basis in the balance sheets.

(24) Employee Benefits

1. Short-term Employee Benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of expected payment and recognized as an expense when the related service is provided.

2. Pensions

A. Defined Contribution Plan

For a defined contribution plan, the amount of pension contribution that should be provided is recognized as the current period's pension cost based on the principle of liability incurred. Prepaid contributions are recognized as assets within the scope of refundable cash or reduced future payment.

B. Defined Benefit Plan

a、 The net obligation of defined benefit plans is measured by discounting the future benefit amounts earned by employees for services rendered in the current or prior periods, and reducing it by the fair value of plan assets at the balance sheet date. The net obligation of the defined benefit plan is calculated annually using the projected unit credit method by an actuary, and the discount rate is based on the market yield of government bonds (at the balance sheet date) that have the same currency and maturity as the benefit obligation of the defined benefit plan.

b、 The remeasurements of defined benefit plans are recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise and are presented in retained earnings.

c、 The related expenses of prior service cost are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

3. Severance Benefits

Severance benefits are benefits provided to employees upon termination of their employment prior to their normal retirement date or when employees accept a company offer to terminate their employment in exchange for benefits. The Company recognizes the expense of severance benefits when it is no longer able to withdraw the offer of such benefits or when the recognition of related restructuring costs is earlier. Severance benefits that are not expected to be settled in full within 12 months after the balance sheet date should be discounted.

4. Employee, Director and Supervisor's Compensation

Employees', directors', supervisors' compensation are recognized as expenses and liabilities when there is a legal or constructive obligation and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Any difference between the estimated and actual amounts distributed by the Board of Directors is recognized as an accounting estimate change. In the case of stock-based employee compensation, the number of shares is calculated based on the closing price on the day prior to the Board of Directors' decision.

(25) Income Taxes

1. The income tax expense includes current and deferred taxes. Except for income taxes related to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, income taxes are recognized in income.

2. The Company calculates current income tax based on the legislated tax rates in the countries where it operates and generates taxable income as of the balance sheet date. The management assesses the status of income tax filings in accordance with applicable tax laws and estimates the income tax liabilities based on the expected tax payments to tax authorities, as appropriate. The undistributed earnings are subject to income tax in accordance with the income tax law, and income tax expenses on undistributed earnings are recognized only after the annual general meeting approves the distribution of the actual earnings in the following year.

3. Deferred income tax is recognized based on the balance sheet method, which means that temporary differences between the tax base and the carrying amount of assets and liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet are recognized. If the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction (excluding a business combination) that at the time of the transaction did not affect accounting profit or taxable income (tax loss), it shall not be recognized. If temporary differences arising from the subsidiary can be controlled by the Company as to the timing of reversal, and it is probable that such temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future, they shall not be recognized. Deferred income taxes are measured based on the tax rates expected to apply when the related deferred tax assets are realized or the deferred tax liabilities are settled, as of the balance sheet date.
 4. Deferred tax assets are recognized for temporary differences that are very likely to be utilized to offset future taxable income within the scope of recognition. These deferred tax assets are re-evaluated at each balance sheet date for amounts not recognized and already recognized.
- (26) Share Capital
Common stock is classified as equity. The net amount after deducting income tax directly attributable to the increase in cost of issuing new shares or stock options is recorded as a deduction from equity in the statement of financial position.
- (27) Dividend Distribution
The dividends distributed to the shareholders of the Company are recognized in the financial statements when they are approved by the Company's shareholders' meeting. Cash dividends are recognized as liabilities.
- (28) Sales Recognition
Sales of Goods
 1. The main business of the Company is the manufacturing, printing, dyeing, and processing of various cotton, wool, silk, and synthetic fiber textiles for domestic and international sales. Revenue is recognized when control over the product is transferred to the customer, which occurs when the product is delivered to the customer. The customer has the discretion to determine the sales route and price of the product, and the Company has no remaining performance obligations that could affect the customer's acceptance of the product. When the product is shipped to the designated location, the risks of obsolescence, deterioration, and loss have been transferred to the customer, and the customer has accepted the product according to the sales contract, or there is objective evidence that all acceptance criteria have been met, the point of delivery has occurred.
 2. Sales revenue is recognized as net of estimated sales returns and allowances based on the contract price. Payment terms for sales transactions typically range from 30 to 120 days after shipment. As the time period between transferring goods or services to customers and their payment does not exceed one year, the Company does not adjust transaction prices to reflect the time value of money.
 3. The contract liability for customer prepayments in the sales contract of the Company is recognized as revenue when control of the product is transferred to the customer.
- (29) Government Grants
Government grants are recognized at fair value when it is reasonably certain that the entity will comply with the conditions attached to the grant and that the grant will be received. If the nature of the government grant is to compensate the Company for expenses incurred, the grant is recognized as income in the statement of comprehensive income systematically on a basis consistent with the recognition of the related expenses.

5. Main Sources of Significant Accounting Judgments, Estimates, and Assumptions Uncertainty

When preparing the consolidated financial statements, the management of the Company has exercised judgment in determining the accounting policies to be adopted and has made accounting estimates and assumptions based on reasonable expectations of future events as of the date of the balance sheet. The significant accounting estimates and assumptions made may differ from actual results, and such estimates and assumptions will be continually evaluated and adjusted in consideration of historical experience and other factors. These estimates and assumptions have the potential to cause significant adjustments to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the next financial year. Please see below for a detailed explanation of the main sources of significant accounting judgments, estimates, and assumptions uncertainties:

Valuation of Inventory

Due to the inventory must be valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, the Company needs to exercise judgment and estimation to determine the net realizable value of inventory as of the balance sheet date. The Company evaluates inventory as of the balance sheet date based on the amount that is expected to be realized from normal usage, obsolescence, or lack of market demand, and reduces the inventory cost to the net realizable value. The inventory valuation is mainly based on the estimation of product demand within a specific future period, and therefore, may involve significant changes.

As of December 31, 2022, the carrying amount of inventory was NT$606,860 thousand.

- A. The Company has established a retirement plan with defined benefits in accordance with the Labor Standards Act. The plan applies to the service years of all regular employees before the implementation of the Labor Pension Act on July 1, 2005, as well as the subsequent service years of employees who choose to continue to be subject to the Labor Standards Act. Retirement benefits are calculated based on years of service and the average salary in the last 6 months before retirement. For those with service years of 15 years or less, two months' basic salary is provided for each year of service. For those with service years exceeding 15 years, one month's basic salary is provided for each year of service, with a maximum of 45 months' basic salary. The Company contributes 2% of total salary as a monthly provision for retirement benefits, which is deposited in a special account in the name of the Labor Retirement Reserve Supervisory Committee at the Bank of Taiwan. In addition, the Company estimates the balance of the Labor Retirement Reserve account at the end of each fiscal year. If the balance is insufficient to cover the estimated retirement benefits for employees who are expected to retire in the following year, based on the above calculation, the Company will make up the difference by the end of March of the following year.

The analysis of the impact on the present value of the defined benefit obligation due to changes in the main actuarial assumptions adopted is as follows:

	Discount Rate		Future Salary Increase Rate
	Increase by 0.25%	Decrease by 0.25%	Increase by 1%	Decrease by 1%

Impact on the Present Value of Defined Benefit Obligations	($ 964)	$ 998	$ 4,239	($ 3,756)

The sensitivity analysis presented above is based on the assumption that all other variables remain constant while only one variable changes. In practice, however, changes in one variable may be interrelated with changes in other variables. The sensitivity analysis is consistent with the method used to calculate the net retirement benefit liability in the balance sheet.

The methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis for the current period are consistent with those used in the previous period.

The Company uses the debt-to-asset ratio to monitor its capital, which is calculated by dividing the total amount of debt by the total amount of assets.

During the year 2022, the Company continued to pursue the same strategy as in year 2021, focusing on reducing the debt-to-asset ratio to a reasonable level of risk. As of December 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021, the Company's debt-to-asset ratios were as follows:

2. Risk Management Policy

- A. The daily operations of the Company are subject to various financial risks, including market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk, and price risk), credit risk, and liquidity risk.

- B. The management of financial risks is carried out by the Company's finance department in accordance with the policies approved by the Board of Directors. The finance department closely collaborates with the various business units and the Office of the Chairman to identify, assess and mitigate financial risks. The execution of financial risk management is carried out in accordance with the Company's internal management rules and internal control systems. The process and results of its execution shall comply with legal regulations.
- The Board of Directors of the Company oversees the adherence to the financial risk policies and procedures by the management, and reviews the adequacy of the framework for managing the relevant financial risks. The internal audit personnel assist the Board of Directors in its supervisory role by conducting regular and ad hoc reviews, and reporting the results to the Board.

3. Nature and Extent of Significant Financial Risks

A. Market Risk

Currency Risk

- a. The Company operates globally and is therefore exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from transactions in functional currencies different from that of the Company and its subsidiaries, mainly the US dollar and Chinese Renminbi. The related foreign exchange risk arises from future commercial transactions and recognized assets and liabilities.
- b. The management of the Company has established policies governing the management of the foreign exchange risk with respect to its functional currencies. It is required to manage its overall foreign exchange risk through the Company's finance department. The measurement of foreign exchange risk is based on the expected transactions of highly probable outflows in US dollars and Chinese Renminbi.
- c. The Company's operations involve several non-functional currencies (the functional currencies of the Company is New Taiwan Dollar), and are therefore subject to the impact of exchange rate fluctuations. The significant foreign currency assets and liabilities that are affected by exchange rate fluctuations are as follows:

December 31, 2022

(Foreign Currency: Functional Currency)	Foreign Currency Amount (thousands)	Exchange Rate	Book Value (TWD in thousand)	Sensitivity		Impact on

The overall exchange gain/loss (realized and unrealized) recognized in the year 2022 and 2021 related to the significant impact of exchange rate fluctuations on the monetary items of the Company amounted to a net gain of NT$21,291 thousand and a net gain of NT$2,094 thousand, respectively.

Price Risk

- a. The equity instruments exposed to price risk are the financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. In order to manage the price risk of equity instrument investments, the Company diversifies its investment portfolio in accordance with the limits set by the Company.
- b. The Company mainly invests in equity instruments and funds issued by domestic companies, the prices of which are affected by the uncertainty of the future value of the investment target. If the prices of these equity instruments rise or fall by 1% while all other factors remain unchanged, the gains or losses from equity investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income for the years 2022 and 2021 will increase or decrease by NT$478 thousand and NT$705 thousand, respectively.

Cash Flow and Fair Value Interest Rate Risk

- a. The Company's interest rate risk arises primarily from short-term notes payable, short-term borrowings, and long-term borrowings issued at floating rates, which expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk. In 2022 and 2021, the Company's borrowings issued at floating rates were primarily denominated in New Taiwan Dollars.
- b. If the borrowing interest rate increases or decreases by 0.1%, while all other factors remain constant, the after-tax net profit for the years 2022 and 2021 will increase or decrease by NT$562 thousand and NT$817 thousand, respectively. This is mainly due to the variability of interest expense resulting from the floating-rate borrowings.

B. Credit Risk

- a. The credit risk of the Company arises from the risk of financial loss due to counterparties' failure to fulfill their contractual obligations in transactions with customers or financial instruments. This risk mainly comes from counterparties' inability to settle receivables according to the payment terms.
- b. The Company examines the creditworthiness of banks and financial institutions with which it deals and accepts them as counterparties only after assessing their credit quality to be satisfactory. In accordance with the internally established credit policy, each operating entity within the Company and each new customer must undergo management and credit risk analysis before the terms and conditions of payment and delivery are established. Internal risk management is achieved by evaluating the credit quality of customers through consideration of their financial condition, past experience, and other factors. Individual risk limits are established by the Board of Directors based on internal or external ratings, and the use of credit limits is monitored regularly.
- c. The Company adopts a credit risk management procedure to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk for financial instruments since their initial recognition. When contractually due payments are past due for more than 90 days, it is considered that the credit risk of the financial asset has significantly increased since its initial recognition, and individual assessment is applied.
- d. The Company classifies its trade receivables and contract assets by customer credit ratings, and uses a simplified approach based on the loss rate method to estimate expected credit losses.

- e. The Company first evaluates and recognizes impairment losses for individual receivables for which objective evidence indicates that they cannot be collected. For other receivables, the Company estimates expected credit losses using a simplified approach based on the loss rate method, which is established based on historical and current information over a specific period and with future forward-looking considerations. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, the accumulated allowance for doubtful accounts for individually assessed accounts receivable was both NT$0 thousand. For the remaining accounts receivable, the accumulated allowance for doubtful accounts was NT$2,153 thousand, estimated based on expected credit losses. The provision matrix is as follows:

	Not Overdue	1 to 90 days	91 to 180 days	Over 180 days	Total
Dec. 31, 2022

(3) Fair Value Information

1. The definitions of each level of valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of financial and non-financial instruments are as follows:

Level 1: The fair value of assets or liabilities measured on the reporting date is based on quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in an active market. An active market is a market in which transactions for the assets or liabilities occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2: The fair value of assets or liabilities is determined using directly or indirectly observable inputs, but not including quoted prices included in Level 1. Non-listed equity investments held by the Company belong to this level.

Level 3: The fair value of assets or liabilities is determined using unobservable inputs. The equity instruments without an active market held by the Company belong to this level.

2. Please refer to Note 6(10) for information on the fair value of investment properties measured at cost by the Company.

3. Financial Instruments not Measured at Fair Value

- A. The financial instruments of this Company that are not measured at fair value (including cash and cash equivalents, financial assets measured at amortized cost, notes receivable (including related parties), accounts receivable (including related parties), other receivables (including related parties), deposits received, short-term borrowings, short-term notes payable, commercial papers payable (including related parties), accounts payable (including related parties), other payables, long-term borrowings (including those due within one year or one operating cycle), deposits received from customers, and lease liabilities (including those due within one year or one operating cycle)) are reasonably approximated at fair value by their carrying amounts, except for those listed in the following table:

	December 31, 2022
	Carrying Amount	Level 1	Fair Value Level 2	Level 3
Financial Liabilities:
Bonds Payable	$ 287,569	$ -	$ 287,580	$ -

As of December 31, 2021, the Company did not hold such financial instrument.

- B. The methods and assumptions used to estimate fair value are as follows:
The bonds payable are measured at the present value of expected future cash flows using market interest rates as of the balance sheet date.

4. The financial and non-financial instruments measured at fair value by the Company are classified based on the nature, characteristics, risk, and fair value hierarchy of the assets and liabilities. The relevant information is as follows:

- A. The instruments are classified by the Company based on the nature of the assets and liabilities, and the information is presented below:

December 31, 2022	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Assets
Recurring Fair Value
Financial Assets at Fair Value through Profit or Loss:

Financial Assets at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income:
-Unlisted Company Stocks	-	4,575	55,143	59,718

	$ -	$ 4,575	$ 55,323	$ 59,898
December 31, 2021	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Assets
Recurring Fair Value
Financial Assets at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income:
-Unlisted Company Stocks	$ -	$ 4,300	$ 83,833	$ 88,133

- B. The methods and assumptions used by the Company to measure fair value are described as follows:
- a. The Company did not use market quotes as input values for measuring fair value (i.e. Level 1).
 - b. The investment in Changhua Golf Club Co., Ltd. by the Company is valued using publicly quoted member certificate prices as the input for fair value measurement (Level 2).
 - c. The output of the valuation models is an estimated fair value, which may not reflect all relevant factors of the financial and non-financial instruments held by the Company. Therefore, the estimated fair value is appropriately adjusted based on additional parameters, such as model risk or liquidity risk. According to the Company's fair value measurement policies and related control procedures, the management believes that such adjustments are necessary and appropriate to reasonably represent the fair values of the financial and non-financial instruments in the consolidated balance sheet. The pricing information and parameters used in the valuation process are prudently evaluated and appropriately adjusted based on current market conditions, in accordance with the Company's fair value measurement policies.
 - d. The Company incorporates credit risk adjustments into the fair value measurement of financial and non-financial instruments to reflect both counterparty credit risk and the Company's own credit quality.
5. There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 during years 2022 and 2021.
6. The following table shows the changes in Level 3 as of December 31, 2022 and 2021:

	2022	2021
Beginning Balance	$ 83,833	$ 75,500
Additions during the Period	3,270	-
Gain or Loss Recognized in P/L

Gain or Loss recognized in other comprehensive income	(28,690)	8,333
Ending Balance	$ 55,323	$ 83,833

7. The Company's valuation process for Level 3 investments of illiquid equity instruments involves independent fair value verification by the Company's finance department, using independent sources of data to ensure that the valuation results are consistent with market conditions and represent executable prices. The process includes regular calibration of valuation models, back-testing, updating of model inputs and data, and any other necessary fair value adjustments to ensure that the valuation results are reasonable. The fair value of the bonds payable and convertible bonds redemption rights is valued by external valuers.
8. The quantitative information of significant unobservable input used in the valuation model for Level 3 fair value measurement items and sensitivity analysis of significant unobservable input changes are described as follows:

Fair Value at	Valuation	Significant	Range	Relationship between
----------------------	------------------	--------------------	--------------	-----------------------------

	Dec. 31, 2022	Technique	Unobservable Inputs	(Weighted Average)	Inputs and Fair Value

9. The Company has carefully assessed the selection of valuation models and parameters. However, the use of different valuation models or parameters may result in different valuation results. For financial assets and liabilities classified as Level 3, changes in valuation parameters would impact the current period's profit or loss or other comprehensive income as follows:
